

Van Rein Coaching

Analysis Coaching Training

Van Rein Coaching is an agency that focuses on improving individual circumstances and organizational climates. Our starting point is that, with sufficient self knowledge and understanding of others, people get the best out of themselves and those around them.

Van Rein Coaching was founded by Esther van Rein. Esther grew up in England, Germany and Belgium and came to the Netherlands around the age of 20. She lives with her partner photographer Paul Rapp.

Esther started her career as an executive secretary and office manager. Because of the experiences she had in this context, she started to study the human psyche. In 1996 Esther began training for four years followed by two years of practice under guidance. She has also completed many courses, workshops and master classes and has committed to a variety of psychological research systems and coaching methods. Esther is a specialist in the field of breast cancer, due to her own experiences.

In her work Esther has observed that standard psychological tests no longer match today's wishes and expectations. Test results tend to be somewhat general and 'of the moment', causing the need for additional appointments.

Esther uses a powerful combination of regular and renewed analysis and coaching techniques in her work. Her reports are thorough and detailed showing immediately and clearly, the client's true personality. This improves the speed of each individual's development.

The basic insights of this system have been transformed into training material.

Esther has extensive experience in the field of analytical reports, coaching, advice and training. She advises and trains, as and when requested by individuals, organizations and colleagues. She coaches clients with diverse backgrounds and roles. Esther's clients come from Netherlands, Belgium, England and America. Van Rein Coaching works, depending on the assignment, on projects with other specialized independent colleagues. This allows Esther to:

- × offer a bespoke high-quality service
- × ensure each project receives a tailored approach
- × keep rates reasonable
